

SOUTHWIND FOODS AT A GLANCE

OUR PURPOSE

Southwind Foods is a multi-generational, nationally recognized, food business. We view our customers as partners, and work together to mutually grow our business and sell more products. We off-load, source, store, process, distribute, and market large varieties of fresh and frozen seafood, beef, poultry, pork, and plant-based proteins. Our products, packaging, and brands provide chef-inspired customized solutions for retail and food service customers.

Southwind Foods is not just a supply or source; we are a supply partner. Our long-term domestic and international relationships allow us to connect our global network of processors with our valued customers. This allows us to have broad insight to always provide the best solutions.

Together we deliver Integrity, Quality, Service, Selection, and Value.

EXCEED YOUR NEEDS

Our HACCP-approved 160,000 square-foot processing, storage, and distribution facility in Carson, California, is certified and exceeds the requirements of BRC Global Food Safety Standard. To support our customers nationwide, we also operate processing and distribution facilities in Nevada, Central and Northern California, and Utah in addition to sales offices in Arizona, New York, Texas, Virginia, and Washington. Southwind Foods delivers quality products and service, making a difference for your business.
